Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with J. Ernest Kenney on October 8, 2003.

The application has been amended as follows:

Cancel claims 33 – 35.

Amend claim 3 as follows:

- 3.) A composite elastic material useful for prosthetic applications, comprising:
 - at least one cured silicone elastomer layer containing silicone oil;
 - hollow microspheres dispersed throughout the elastomer layer, ~~including an elasticized fabric layer intimately bonded to one side of the silicone elastomer layer,~~wherein said composite elastic material is in the form of a tubular prosthetic suction liner having a closed distal end, and configured so as to be rollable onto a distal end of a residual limb of a prosthetic device user.

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Ishikawa et al. (US 5,733,335), which is believed to be the most pertinent art, teaches a cured silicone elastomer layer containing silicone oil dispersed with hollow microspheres. However, Ishikawa fails to teach or suggest the use of the above described structure as a sleeve having a closed distal end that can be rolled onto a residual limb of a prosthetic device user as stated in claim 3.

Additionally, Ishikawa does not teach or suggest the use of the above described structure as a sleeve in the form of a tubular sleeve open at opposed ends as stated in claim 4.

3. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
